Regulations based on Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (“OECD”) Common Reporting Standard (“CRS”) require financial institutions to collect and report certain required information based on an individual account holder’s or controlling person of an entity account holder’s tax residence.

Each jurisdiction has its own rules for defining tax residence. In general, tax residence is the country in which you live. Special circumstances (such as studying abroad, working overseas, or extended travel) may cause you to be resident elsewhere or resident in more than one country at the same time (multiple residencies). The country/countries in which you pay income tax could be your country/countries of tax residence. For more information on tax residence, please consult your tax adviser or the information at the following link at <http://www.oecd.org/tax/automatic-exchange/crs-implementation-and-assistance/> respectively.

If your tax residence is located outside of the country in which this account is maintained, we may be legally obliged to pass on the information in this form and other financial information with respect to your financial accounts to the tax authorities in the country where the financial institution is located and they may exchange this information with tax authorities of another jurisdiction or jurisdictions pursuant to intergovernmental agreements to exchange financial account information.

This form will remain valid unless there is a change in circumstance relating to your tax status. You must notify us within 30 days if there is a change in circumstance that makes any of the information provided in this form incorrect or incomplete and provide an updated Controlling Person Tax Residency Self-Certification form.

As a financial institution, we are not allowed to give tax or legal advice.

If you have any questions about this form, these instructions, or defining your tax residency status, please speak to your tax adviser or domestic tax authority.
